

THE SIDELINE
P.R.E.P
SMARTS EXERCISE

Audition Smarts

By GeNienne Samuels &
The Sideline Prep Coaches

Smarts Exercise

Preparation, research, practice, dedication, visualization, etc. are extremely important elements to ensure you are polished at auditions. But the moment of truth is on audition day, when you are standing in front of the judges. All of your preparation WILL pay off but you have to ensure it does by giving 110% and putting all that you've learned into practice. In simple terms, you've gotta show off your "smarts" on audition day!

Through out the Sideline Smarts training, numerous elements are discussed. Use this worksheet to think through some of the answers to the questions and topics that were discussed in the training.

The moment of truth is approaching.

- Olivier Deleuze

Judges

Take a moment to think through and answer these questions, specifically in reference to your skills, attributes, and personality:

- How can you impress the judges?
- How can you capture the judges' attention?
- How can you make a fabulous impression on the judges?
- How can you make the judges remember you?
- What do you think the judges are looking for?

Full Package

Are you the “full package”? Do you need to improve upon any of the below areas? If so, it's okay... Add it to your Goals and let's work on it TOGETHER!!

Also keep in mind that no one (1) person is the BEST in ALL of the below areas. The idea is to be “solid” in the majority of the below areas.

- “The Look” (From head to toe)
- Showmanship / Performance / Facials
- Well-rounded (Personal & Professional)
- Coachable
- Strong work ethic
- Willingness to learn
- Speaking ability
- Interview skills
- Learn & perform under pressure
- Can fit in with the current team
- Punctual
- Dance ability / Freestyle / Solo dance
- Personality
- Confidence
- Versatility (Good bit between dance & look)
- Kicks/flexibility
- Modeling / Photogenic
- Tricks / Tumbling / Advanced Technique
- Recovery skills
- Community service
- Be You! & Smile!

BDDM!

You are On Your Way to Using Your SMARTS!!